

Stephanie Landazuri

Undergraduate Student

Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry

Queens college, City University of New York

65-30 Kissena Boulevard Queens, NY 11367-1597

Lab: Science Bldg.

Email: Stephanie.landazurivinueza04@gmail.cuny.edu

- Stephanie got and A.S degree in Liberal Arts and Science from Queensborough Community College. She joined Queens College in Spring 2020 and is currently majoring in Chemistry.
- She got accepted into the MARC Program Scholar at Queens College. This great opportunity and research skills will help her to reach her dream of earning a PhD in Chemistry.
- At Queensborough Community College, she become a group tutor for Organic Chemistry I and II, and she participated in the CUNY Research Program (CRSP), under the mentoring of Dr. Andrew Nguyen in the Biology Department, and her research project was about examining the function of STAT 3 in osteoclastic maintenance of normal bone density.
- Stephanie was part of the Ecuadorian Civic Committee of New York where they organized engagement training workshops for Latino children and their parents.
- During her free time, Stephanie spends time with her family, friends and playing basketball.